

Walk down the old dirt road and across the little bridge by the stone cottage. Smell the freshly-cut hay, and see the patches of blue sky through the treetops. Wander down the lane a bit further to see sheep grazing in a meadow, pause to gather a bouquet of country blooms growing along the roadside. If there's a summer rain, wrap yourself in a handmade quilt and read a book while sipping rose hips tea.

Country Rose hearkens to a sweet day in the countryside, and the beauty that comes in the simple things of life.
